W. C. CAMPBELL

Replies to C. M. Kay's Letter Published Yesterday.

To the Democratic Voters of Anderson County:

Mr. C. M. Kay says in his pretended reply to Judge Gardner: "I am not willing to be drawn into this character of controversy, but it has been forced upon me, etc." The facts are that Mr. Kay himself precipitated the controversy by attempting, on the stump, to create the idea that Judge Gardner had divulged to me information that I was not entitled to.

Mr. Kay is an artful dodger; he wants the voters to believe that the real issue is whether he used good or bad judgment in holding up the 53 indictments for gaming. It is in my opinion not a question of JUDGMENT, but one of good or BAD FAITH, and his disposition to dodge that issue shows how little faith he has in the justice of his cause.

The question is, did Mr. Kay really believe that the ends of justice would be better subserved by holding up these 53 indictments for gaming, contrary to law, until after the election?
Did Mr. Kay really believe that the witnesses could not be procured, if the indictments had been filed, in accordance with the order of the District Judge, and the process placed in the hands of the officers? Does Mr. Kay really believe that either of the justices of the peace of Precinct No. 1 would force him into trial, and dismiss these 53 cases without giving him a fair show "to get his witnesses." Does Mr. Kay really believe that he will ever get his witnesses without the proper process being placed in the hands of the officers? From my experience in the justice court, I have never witnessed a justice of the peace dismissing a criminal case where the been some 18 days since I called attention to the public that these indictments were being held up. I have not heard of any of these defendants having escaped on account of the publicity given by me, but Mr. Kay has made no effort to have them arrested; in fact, Mr. Kay stated in his speech at Cayuga that the defendants in these cases were some painters, mechanics and a few railroad men that were not going to get away. Confidence in the justice of his cause would suggest that he should file the indictments, have warrants of arrest and subpoenas issued, and let it be seen whether the facts developed would justify his side of the question.

Mr. Kay charges Judge Gardner with resorting to "questionable methods" in "supporting a bad cause," and bases this charge or intimation on the publication of Judge Gardner's article last Tuesday, while Mr. Kay was out of town. In this day of daily papers telephones, rural free delivery, it comes with poor grace for one to complain of a publication of an article on Tuesday before the election on Saturday, and which is replied to on Thursday; another case of dodging.

Respectfully,
W. C. Campbell

Wants to Be Heard Tonight on His Position.

Palestine, Texas, July 27, 1906.

son County:

In regard to the communication that Mr. W. C. Campbell has in today's paper, I have this to say:

I learned this morning that he was going to get into print again. I went to him and asked to see what he had to say. He at first refused; then he home from St. Louis, where he represented some of the Texas peach shippers in the shipping season. He will spend the rest of his vacation at his former home near Rust.

The Auditorium Picture Show put on a new program last night, and it is a good one. A splendid crowd was out and the pictures and music were enjoyed. The same bill tonight, and tomorrow matinee and night.

Capt. John L. Leary, fish commissioner at San Marcos, was in the city this morning. He brings the information that Prof. Baldwin of the commission, well known here, has been promoted, and transferred to Leadville, Colo.

The C. M. A. team met the George Howard ball team on the diamond at the ball park yesterday afternoon, and played a quick game. The score was two and one in favor of the C. M. A.'s.
Another game will be played by the same teams tomorrow.

A. G. Burton is in the city from Mart, where he is building a number of business homes. He says they have fine crops over in that section. He also says Campbell is running over there, and that a big Campbell rally is to be held in Mart tonight.

Conductor Russ has returned home from a vacation spent at Marlin, and in on his regular run again. Two nights ago he was in Galveston, and he says the mosquitoes were worse than he ever knew them to be there, and that they made life miserable to all who had to be exposed to them.

county attorney was pleading with him to keep it on the docket, nor have I ever known a justice of the peace who would not give a county attorney a fair deal.

He says that Judge Gardner is correct in stating that the minutes of the District Court are open to the examination of any person seeking information contained therein, and then branches off on the idea that the names of the defendants should not be entered on the minutes, and says that it is not the place to find the names, and when not entered in the minutes there is no way to find them except through some officer of the court or some grand juror. In this instance the names were entered on the minutes as has been done many times before, and became public property as soon as this was done. But it is not a question of NAMES in this instance, but that fact that indictments for gaming had been held up and are still held up by Mr. Kay, and not filed in the proper court in accordance with the order of transfer, and the MOTIVE for so doing is the issue I present to the voters. I have never at any time mentioned a single name of the parties indicted, not because it would have been improper to do so, but for the reason that it cuts no figure in the case.

Mr. Kay says that the defendants would never have known of the pendency of these indictments, prior to their arrest, but for my proclamation.
But he is dodging again, for it has said he would let me know later, and when he did so it was too late to get in a full reply.

The information that Mr. Campbell obtained and made public was obtained through the mistake made in placing the names of the parties indicted upon a public record contrary to law as shown by Article 434, as published in yesterday's paper in a letter by me, to which I refer you.

Mr. Campbell's insinuation about the Justice of the Peace continuing cases indefinitely needs no answer, for that is regulated by law.

No good citizen would have obtained this information in regard to these indictments, and then made it public.
Mr. Campbell would not have done so but for political purposes, and a man that will do a thing for political purposes that he would not do as a good citizen is not worthy of your support.
I use my best judgment to enforce the law and secure the conviction of the parties indicted by the grand jury.

This entire subject will be discussed tonight and I ask every citizen in Palestine to come out and listen, and on tomorrow I am not afraid of the judgment of every good man who believes in enforcing the criminal laws.

Respectfully,
C. M. Kay.
